Constitution Avenue is a key element of the Walter Burley Griffin Master Plan and, as the third leg of the Parliamentary Triangle, the road is significant in the implementation of the Griffin Legacy.

The preliminary design of the Constitution Avenue upgrade project has included a visionary design for the length of the road between Vernon Circle and Blamey Crescent. The upcoming construction work will deliver the ‘framework’ for this visionary design which will be realised over future years as residential and commercial development along the corridor progresses.

The vision for Constitution Avenue is described in the National Capital Plan ‘Amendment 60, Constitution Avenue’ with the objective to create a place for people to live, work and socialise. The long term vision aims to provide a vibrant, mixed-use, grand boulevard with an integrated transport system, broad tree-lined footpaths, outdoor dining and on-street parking.

To achieve the visionary outcomes for Constitution Avenue, private developers along the road corridor will be required to upgrade the verges adjacent to their property. These upgrades will include increased verge paving to a high quality standard and detailed landscaping components including seating, planter beds and raised grassed areas.
